62-109060-1009 on Mannlicher ammo.

There was also Swedish ammo, Norma, of which I have a few. It does not have this steel green casing/ The White lab used the steel rather than copper jacketed bullets in its work for CBS. I doubt any Italian manufacture with the millions of rounds of military ammo just going to waste.

The lab knew there were problems before this time, although this was only the next day, because the lab did not test Q8, the unfired round.

It would have been good to have had this and to question Frazier et all on it during depositions.

Hastily,
